After such an admission it is a little surprising to be told that White, if he unperthe the treasure, will be given 10 per cent, up to the value of Re. 100,000 and 5 per cent, on the remainder. The story told by White's courses the an sir of Stevensonian romance about it ribus The big temple just referred to is ten it is by no means impossible. At the time of his formal capture by Colonel Sladen

King Theobaw begged to be allowed to remain in the Palace during the night and asked that a guard of British soldiers might on placed inside to protect him. But the guard was taken from the Hampahire Blantment, not from the West Surrey Regiment to which White belonged. Surrounding vellow robes, and began to get noisy. Our troops entered the rooms where the royal family lived.

and found all in a state of the greatest ods fusion. Trinkets and valuables rolden ornaments, and some few jewels were lying about, mixed with rich silks and gormous dresses; but an examination showed more empty jewel cases than full once, and there was much that was treely and valueless. The maids-of-honour had had their line. and had made the most of their time. The regalia was handed over by Thesbaw and
